

Aim:

What are the 3 types of environmental ethics?

1. Developmental a.k.a. anthropocentric or egocentric ethic resources exist for our benefit and pleasure.

If it can be done,
it should be done!short term thinking for immediate benefits no forward thinking2. Preservation a.k.a. biocentric ethic preserve areas (especially the species present) that are important to future generations

(minimal environmental impact)

3. Conservation

a.k.a. ecocentric ethic balance between resource use and conservationmost in line with concept of Sustainable Development